visitations will be made throughout the said city and liberties, by the undernamed Inspectors, or by Examiners, to be appointed for that purpose; whose duty it will be to inspect the Weights and Measures used, and seize all such as are not in conformity with the Standards, so as to secure, in the most effectual manner, the observance of the existing laws upon the subject.

All merchants, farmers, shopkeepers, innkeepers, stablers, carriers, makers or sellers of Weights and Measures, and all other persons concerned, are therefore hereby warned that they will require to get their old Weights and Measures adjusted, or new ones provided, as heavy penalties will be incurred by their using erroneous weights and measures.

ABSTRACT OF THE PRESENT CORN LAWS.

FOREIGN corn, wheat-meal, or flour, and oatmeal, may always be imported bonded, and (as well as British) exported, without payment of any duty or may be entered for Home Consumption at any time, subject to the annexed duties, regulated by the aggregate average prices, which are to be published every Thursday, and forthwith sent to the various Custom Houses. They are formed from returns of Sales, by Imperial Measure, of British and Irish Corn, received from 150 towns in England and Wales the six preceding weeks.

The Import for Home Consumption, into Great Britain and Ireland, of malt, and all ground corn, except wheat-meal, flour, and oatmeal, is prohibited.

If any Foreign State shall subject British vessels, produce, or goods, to higher duties than are levied on their own national vessels, or the goods of other countries imported in their national vessels, an Order in Council may be issued, to prohibit the import of corn, &c. from such State.

Corn, wheat-meal, flour, oatmeal, linseed, rapeseed, and cloverseed, may be brought from any port in Europe, in British vessels, or in ships of the country of which they are the produce, or in ships of the country from whence they are imported; but from Holland, in Dutch vessels, 20 per cent. additional duty must be paid.

All shipments of grain and flour from British possessions out of Europe, after three months from the 15th July, 1828, must be accompanied by a Certificate from the chief officer of the customs of the port from whence shipped, stating that the owner or shipper thereof has made a declaration, in writing, that the corn so shipped, specifying the quantity and description thereof, was the produce of the British possession out of Europe to be med therein; and the captain must produce a copy of the owner's or ipper's declaration, certified by the collector or chief officer of the stoms, at the port of shipment, to be a true copy of the owner's declara-on, before making entry at the place of importation; and further, that e cargo is the same referred to in the declaration and certificate, without y admixture or addition. Any false statement respecting the place or entity of corn, &c. subjects the party making it to a penalty of One undred Pounds, and the cargo to be forfeited.
